

Mid-month Musings - April

Insects should be gracing your outside spaces

Have you noticed more flowers this month? What pollinating insects have been visiting

Are you keeping track of the tadpoles' progress?

If any of you took part in last month's How To and built a mini wildlife pond we would love for you to share it with us on the Facebook Group if you haven't already!

April – How To – Part 2

Create a Herb Garden for Wildlife

No matter how big the space you have, you can please both people and wildlife with a majestic herb garden. Planting a herb garden will not only allow you easy access to seasoning for your food, but will also attract pollinators like bees and butterflies into your garden. Herb gardens can be planted in raised beds, borders, containers or window boxes – any space will do!
